PRESENTING CLINICAL SIGNS

Vomited once, lethargic, anorexic, losing weight

Abnormal PE/Chem/CBC/UA Results: cbc/chem pending x ray hepatomegaly

ULTRASONOGRAPHIC EXAMINATION OF THE ABDOMEN

Urinary System

The urinary bladder, trigone, and pelvic urethra presented normal thicknesses and normal tone. The ureters were not visible which is normal. No uroliths or sediment were visualized and anechoic urine was present. No evidence of inflammatory or neoplastic changes were noted. Ureteral papillae were normal. The pelvic urethra was imaged 1.0 cm beyond the cystourethral junction.

Only some portions of the kidneys were visualized obliquely with age related changes, measuring approximately 6.0 cm each. No gross renal pathology seen.

Adrenal Glands

The adrenal glands were not visualized.

Spleen

The spleen was enlarged and folded upon itself cranially and caudally. Micronodular changes noted.

Liver

The liver was mildly swollen. The gallbladder and common bile duct were unremarkable.

Gastrointestinal

Examination of the gastrointestinal tract revealed variable thickening with reactive mesentery. The colon was empty.

Pancreas

The visible pancreas was largely unremarkable, yet some enhanced mesentery noted around portions of the pancreas. Secondary inflammation likely.

Free Abdomen

Mesenteric lymph nodes were slightly enlarged.

Enhanced mesentery noted in the cranial abdomen, suggestive for inflammation.

ULTRASONOGRAPHIC FINDINGS

- Splenohepatomegaly with reactive mesentery – strong concern for round cell neoplasia.
- Variable GI thickened.
- Age related renal changes.
- Slightly enlarged mesenteric lymph nodes and cranial abdominal enhanced mesentery.
