SPECIES

LIMITED ULTRASONOGRAPHIC EXAMINATION

A well circumscribed 5.0 cm echogenic fluid-filled structure was noted with echogenic tissue remodeling. Appears encapsulated. Given the position, this is most consistent with sialocele.

BREED

Hound X

Pericapsular inflammatory pattern noted. Cannot rule out thyroid origin. However, this would be an odd presentation for a thyroid.

SEX

Intact Male

- Suspect sialocele, less likely possibility of cystic carcinoma – appears eventually resectable.

INTERPRETATION OF THE FINDINGS & FURTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

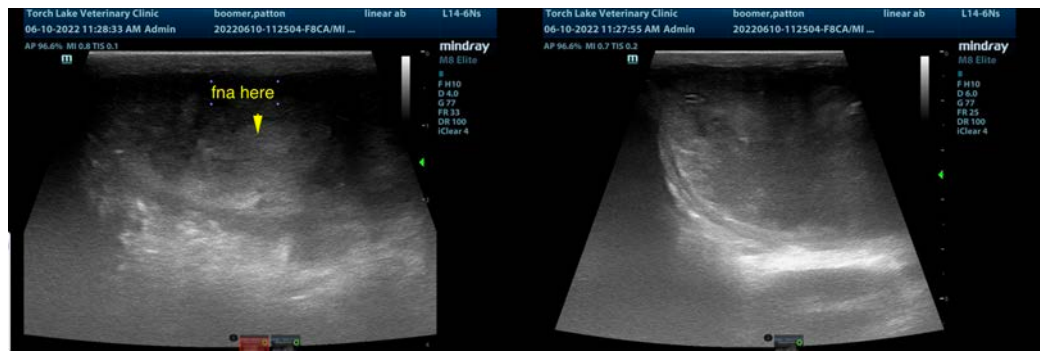

AGE

6 Years

Ultrasound guided drainage of the fluid-filled portion with culture and sensitivity and FNA of the parenchymal portion recommended to rule out neoplasia. CT evaluation would be ideal. Drain placement may be appropriate. This is likely granulomatous. Abscess owing to penetrating foreign body or esophageal penetration also possible, yet no foreign bodies noted.
