RADIOGRAPHIC STUDY OF THE ABDOMEN

Right lateral and ventrodorsal views totaling 2 images available for review.

BREED

RADIOGRAPHIC FINDINGS

Esophageal aerophagia is noted.

SEX

Spayed Female

The abdominal serosal detail appears to be reduced in the center of the abdominal cavity which may be a function of the crowding of intestinal loops.

The small intestinal loops are evenly distributed in the mid abdomen; however, they present mild generalized dilation with gas.

The stomach and colon contain a large amount of gas. There is no evidence of segmental dilation, plication, or foreign material.

RADIOGRAPHIC DIAGNOSIS

- Suspect functional gastrointestinal ileus with aerophagia.

INTERPRETED BY

Nele Eley, DVM
Dr. med. Vet. DipECVDI

INTERPRETATION OF THE FINDINGS & FURTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

The gas accumulation within the gastrointestinal tract may be due to prolonged aerophagia; however, gastrointestinal disease with functional ileus is a potential too. Consider further verification by means of abdominal ultrasound should the patient be stable enough to do this.
