INTERPRETATION OF THE FINDINGS & FURTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

The radiographic presentation of the gastrointestinal tract is within normal limits. No radiographic evidence of mechanical ileus is seen. Subileus and functional ileus remain a potential. Ultrasonographic examination of the abdomen could be considered for further definition in case of persisting or recurring clinical signs.

The information and recommendations provided are based on the images presented by the referring veterinarian/sonographer. No evaluation can be communicated regarding pathology that was not visible in the image/video clips provided.
